YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS.

—Mrs. J. R. Morgan visited friends in Oil City over Sunday. —Miss Fernie Bowman is visiting her sister at Mt. Jewett, Pa.

—A goodly number of the ladies of the W. R. C. of this place, with their husbands, braved the showers yesterday to attend a picnic at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leclair.

—Among the good features of the Dingler bill is the destruction of the cigarette picture. It also does away with the lottery and prize schemes in connection with the sale of tobacco and cigars.

—Our county fair always has a good show of live stock, but this year's display promises to be unusually large in horses and cattle.

—Miss Florence Sanner of Bradford visited friends in this place last Sabbath and Monday.

—Miss Lena Grove of Titusville, who has been a guest of Miss Retta Prober during the past week, returned home on Monday.

—Miss Edna and Bird Furman and Myrtle Siggins of Bradford were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Richards last Sabbath.

—Miss Susie Huling arrived home last evening after a two months' visit with relatives and friends in Pittsburgh and Washington, Pa.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Duffee, Miss Mercy Sherrett and Miss Mabel Roberts, of Oil City, were visiting Mrs. J. W. Jamieson during the past week.

—T. W. Corah and daughters Viola, Edna and Lena, of Warren, took advantage of the Titusville excursion Sunday and came down to visit Tionesta friends.

—Misses Margaret Long of New Castle and Grace Benson of East Randolph, N. Y., have returned to their homes after a four weeks' visit with the Misses Watson at Gollina.

—The REPUBLICAN acknowledges a pleasant call on Saturday last from Rev. Will B. Roup, of Pittsburg, who took advantage of his presence at the Free Methodist camp meeting at Pleasantville to give former Tionesta friends a call before returning to his ministerial duties in the Smoky City.

—C. P. Reynolds and wife, of Sibley, Iowa, have been visiting friends in this section for the past two months, and on Friday he gave old friends and comrades in Tionesta and vicinity a call.

—W. G. McCain, formerly a member of the lumbering firm of Collins, Kreidler & Co., at Nebraska, this county, was circulating among his numerous friends a day or two of last week.

—Fall opening at Smith's Business College, Warren, Pa., Aug. 30. —A grand success was the Red Letter Sale at Miles & Armstrong's, but some goods left with Red Letter price on them.

—From now until Sept 1st we will make a decided reduction in the price of all our shoes. All goods marked in plain Roman figures when unpacked and reduction made from the original price, so there can be no mistake.

—Our Clothing Department is getting a hustle on. It's coming down stairs so our customers won't have to climb the long stairs and walk a half mile to look at an overcoat or suit.

—Do you appreciate good laundry work? If so patronize the Duokirk Steam Laundry. Miles & Armstrong, agents.

OVERCROWDED INSANE HOSPITAL.

Dr. Curwen Issues an Important Statement. Warren, Pa., Aug. 12.—The State Hospital for the Insane at Warren, Penna., was constructed and organized for the care and treatment of the insane of the counties of Warren, Crawford, Erie, Mercer, Venango, Clarion, Forest, Meeker, Elk and Cameron, and Potter was afterward added by Legislative Act.

The number of insane from these counties on the first of August, 1897, was 608; private patients from different sections of the commonwealth, 83; from 24 counties outside of the district, 264; making the total 1055; showing a very much overcrowded hospital.

The capacity of the hospital when constructed was considered to be for 700 patients. The law requires that "while the finances of the State do not permit ample provision for all cases of insanity, recent cases shall have preference over those of long standing."

In order to meet this requirement of the law, it is respectfully and earnestly requested that before making arrangements to bring a patient to the hospital, a statement be sent to the superintendent, giving the sex; age; length of time insane; the first symptoms, dating back a longer or shorter period; any previous attacks; any complications that may exist, such as paralysis, epilepsy, or alcoholism.

No patient will be admitted unless these requirements are fully complied with; the question simply being whether this provision of the law shall be complied with, or the hospital completely closed to any further admissions, at the closing of the hospital is not a thing to be desired.

JOHN CURWEN, M. D., Superintendent. Death of Lloyd Fayette Bloomfield. Lloyd Fayette Bloomfield was born May 7, 1877, and died July 24, 1897, aged 20 years, 2 months and 17 days.

Deceased was born in Crawford county, Pa., near Centerville, in Athens Township. When about a year old his mother bringing him with her removed into Warren county, making her home on Kelly Hill.

When ten years of age the family came to Trunkville where they have since lived, and where he died, as above. In these places he had grown up toward manhood, a quiet, well-behaved, boy and young man. He was honest, and had the disposition that won friends.

He was a "home-loving" and a "mother-loving" boy and young man, and preferred home and the society of his mother to the too frequent practice of running out and loafing around at night. He had made no great noise in the world as yet, but nevertheless he had a place that he filled, and in some hearts there is a sore grief, and in his own community there is a sadness, for he is missed—his place is vacant—he is gone.

He never had been very strong. About two years ago he had an attack that for a time looked quite serious, threatening to turn into consumption. From this he recovered and just before the sickness of which he died seemed stronger than he had ever been. Early in June last he had suffered an attack from which he recovered so as to be about and to work some, and from which no serious consequences were apprehended. Two weeks later he became bad again and gradually grew worse—now and then seeming better—hopes being entertained at times of his recovery—and on Saturday, July 24, at 11:45 a. m., he died.

Nearly two weeks before his death he was soundly converted to God. It was on a Monday morning; and from that hour until he died his experience was a delightful one. The natural desire, under the circumstances, to get well,—and especially for his mother's sake,—was strong, but the anticipation of going "to be with Christ" was to him, "far better," and his death-bed was a scene of glory and triumph. It was another of those evidences, and a very clear one, too, that the soul, in its great crisis, gives that the great things written in God's Book are true.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. J. E. Hillard were held at Fagundus on Monday afternoon following his death. A large congregation was present. The body was laid to rest in the cemetery near the M. E. Church, by the side of his father, who in the same month a little more than one year before, was buried there.

Forest County Agricultural Society. There will be a regular meeting of the above society at the Court House, in Tionesta, on Monday evening of August 30th, at 8 o'clock. Everybody invited. There are many questions of interest to be discussed.

By order of C. A. RANDALL, Pres. J. ALBAUGH, Sec. —Still a lot of goods that must go. See prices that will move them, at Miles & Armstrong's.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy always affords prompt relief. For sale by G. W. Boyard. You can get it at Hopkins' store.

Vin, vigor, and victory; these are the characteristics of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness, and all stomach and liver troubles. Health & Killmer. It heals everything except a broken heart, may be said of DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Pills and rectal diseases, such as, burns, bruises, letter, eczema and all skin troubles may be cured by it quickly and permanently.

A Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea. In 1892, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief.

Business is so brisk at the Iron Building that Hopkins couldn't find time to write an ad, so watch this space next week.

Always entails an immense loss to every progressive clothing house. No up-to-date merchant will carry a stock of clothing from one season to another. His capital must be turned, and to keep the wheels moving it must be sold, all the time, in season and out.

Our stock of clothing is a little larger than it should be at this time. Price cutting is the only sure means we know of to reduce it. We thus make what we really believe to be the biggest genuine reductions on legitimate clothing ever offered in the city.

CHILDRENS' WANTS. Wash suits, 50 cent kind, 39c. 75 cent ones 50c. And all our higher priced suits that were $1.25 to $2.00, now $1.00.

FURNISHINGS. Men's Jean Pants, 47c. Men's Crash Hats, 39c. Men's Leather Suspenders, 25c. Blue Overalls, 35c.

NEW SUITS. All this season's checks, plaids and plain colors, suits we have sold all the season at $10, $11 and $12, now $7.50.

NEW SUITS. Fine cassimers and chevies, latest shades, and clothing this season's nobbiest cut suits, sold at $14, $15 and $16, now $10.50.
